

Consultation on new registration standards

Important changes are being made to the way that health and adult social care is regulated in England. We think they will make regulation fairer and clearer for providers of care, and make sure that services meet essential common standards of safety and quality.

These changes will also affect people who use services and those who arrange services locally. The Care Quality Commission CQC now need your views on our guidance about the new essential common standards.

About the consultation

The consultation runs for 12 weeks from 1 June 2009. Please make sure your comments reach the CQC by 24 August 2009. Thank you.

You can fill in the consultation questionnaire online, electronically or print it out by following the link above (About the consultation)