Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs)

Under current data protection legislation, we must be able to demonstrate our compliance with Data Protection by Design. One of the ways we do this is through the use of DPIAs.

What is a DPIA?

A DPIA is a process designed to help us systemically analyse, identify and minimise the data protection risks of a project, plan, system etc. It allows issues to be recognised early and addressed appropriately, which demonstrates that data protection has been considered throughout the development of any new or changes to existing activities.

The list below shows DPIAs that have been undertaken and approved between October 2024 and February 2025:
